

Ankle Bracing Just Got Better

PDAC Approved L1902

The Weby Zap™ replicates ankle taping and is our most effective brace for play, rehabilitation and competitive athletics. Countless players, practitioners and patients over the last 20 years have trusted our lacing sports ankle brace to assist in ankle sprain prevention and protection.

The elastic top strap wrap protects the laces and pull up straps

Constructed of supportive ballistic nylon with non-stretch and non-fraying straps that replicate ankle taping

Ankle control is provided by the figure 8 straps, which limit inversion and eversion (turning over) motions commonly associated with ankle sprains, while allowing normal plantar and dorsal flexion (up and down) ankle motion

Pull-ups on the straps and binding of the brace provide durability

NoSwet® spacer fabric tongue and Achilles relief pad provide airy comfort and lace protection

Perfected Over 20 Years

PDAC Approved L1902

Working closely with athletic trainers and orthopedic surgeons, we originated the ankle stabilization brace more than 20 years ago. The ZAP™ is our latest creation. We used our original brace as a base to make the following improvements:

New fabrics give the ZAP™ greater breathability, added strength and durability, which allows it a lower profile for better comfort. We have added an elastic strap closure to improve compression, which covers the laces and pullup straps, and gives it a contemporary, clean appearance. NOSWET® spacer fabric tongue and Achilles relief pad provide airy comfort and lace protection and wicks away moisture. Pull ups on the straps give the patient improved leverage for a more secure fit. Our new seamless design limits irritation of the foot and ankle.

Seamless design maximizes comfort while its clean, low profile style slips into shoes without increasing shoe size.

Support your ankle and help prevent or reduce the severity of your ankle injury.
